NOTES AND NEWS

A NEW psychological review, Psiche, has been launched in Italy with Professor Enrico Morselli of Genoa, Professor Sante de Sanctis of Rome, and Professor Guido Villa of Pavia as directors, and Dr. Roberto Assagioli of Florence as editor-in-chief. The directors aim to make the new review different from previous reviews in certain respects, one of which will be the devotion of each number to a particular topic. It is planned to publish six numbers of not less than sixty-four pages each in the course of the present year. The subscription price is L. 8 for Italian and L. 10 for foreign subscriptions. Single numbers will cost L. 2. Communications may be addressed to Via degli Alfani, 46, Florence.

PRESIDENT G. STANLEY HALL, of Clark University, is giving a course of six lectures on "The Founders of Modern Psychology" at Columbia University. His program is as follows: January 16, "Edward D. Zeller, the Scholar in his Field"; January 17, "Edward von Hartmann, the Philosopher of Temperament"; January 23, "Hermann Lotze, the Harmonizer"; January 24, "Theodor Fechner, the Animist"; January 30, "Hermann von Helmholtz, the Ideal Man of Science"; January 31, "Wilhelm Wundt, a Scientific Philosopher."

THE Houghton Mifflin Company have in press "The Classical Psychologists," selections illustrating psychology from Anaxagoras to Wundt, compiled by Dr. Benjamin Rand. This work of Dr. Rand is a companion volume to his "Modern Classical Philosophers" and "The Classical Moralists."

PROFESSOR HENRI BERGSON, professor of philosophy of the Collège de France, has accepted the invitation of the Senatus Academicus of the University of Edinburgh to be Gifford lecturer from October, 1913, to October, 1915.

EDWARD O. SISSON, recently head of the department of education at the University of Washington, has been appointed professor of education in the newly established Reed College, at Portland, Oregon.
